DRIVING INSTRUCTOR SPOTLIGHT Beth Bonvillain

Beth is both a 38 hour driver education classroom instructor and an in-vehicle instructor. She has worked with South Lafourche Driving School for 2.5 years. She is often the 38 hour classroom instructor at our Thibodaux, Houma Civic Center, and Raceland Locations. She has been in education for 21 years with 11 years in Lafourche Parish. She holds a Bachelors in Education, Masters in Education, Leadership, and Technology, and has an Educational Specialist Degree. Beth loves spending time with ti family, crafting, and decorating.

"I love getting to know the students in my class. I feel if I can use my stories and knowledge of being safe on the road and impact at least half of the students in each class, then I have done my job of not only teaching them how to drive but also influencing them to be safe." Beth Bonvillain

Parent IMPACT: Strategies for Coaching Your New Driver Words of Experience from James Suttle, Owner

Supervising Your Beginning Driver

The graphs to the right show a significant drop in the crash rate once a new driver has driven for 12 months or 1000-1500 miles of independent driving. Speaking from 40 years of in-vehicle driver education instruction experience, I feel that this is a good representation of why it is advisable for a parent to continue to closely monitor a beginning driver's skills and attitude even though it's not required by law after your teen gets a license. You can make a difference in your teen's life if you continue to monitor during this time.
